

Researchers developing garden robot

Scientists have created a green-fingered robot that can prune roses and trim bushes.

Trimbot uses mapping technology to find its way around the garden and perform tasks with advanced cutting tools on the automated lawnmower, made by Bosch. The team behind Trimbot, co-ordinated by University of Edinburgh researchers, said prototypes could help people with mobility issues tend gardens.

